

Proposed System

The suggested system has the ability to scan the environment for various barriers of varied sizes and generate the necessary auditory and vibratory notifications. It can inform the user when it detects moist or damp surfaces. Additionally, it can SMS the user's location to friends in an emergency or when they are in difficulty, and it can be located when lost via an RF remote control.